The World in Tribute to Late President

By AUSTIN SCOTT

NEW YORK (AP)—A cluster of white roses and a small flag among hundreds of other floral offerings on a grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

A somber President and Mrs. Johnson, both dressed in black, attended a special memorial service in Austin, Tex.

Air Force planes flew over Cape Cod in the missing buddy formation — one position vacant.

In these and many other ways a thoughtful nation paused Sunday to remember, and pay tribute, on the first anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The tragedy that had reached around the world was relived around the world in solemn ceremonies, as hundreds of thousands put aside part of their day for their own private ways of remembering.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy sent a small spray of wildflowers to the grave. They were delivered by her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss.

The President's widow remained in seclusion with her two children, Caroline and John Jr., at their weekend Long Island residence.

The mother of the 35th president, Rose Kennedy, attended two Roman Catholic Masses at Hyannis Port, Mass., where the Kennedy family has its summer home.

Police Budget One Without Financing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Comptroller L. A. Mashburn told the Legislative Council today that the State Police budget is the only one which will be presented for consideration without adequate means of financing.

Mashburn said the recommended State Police budget of slightly over $3 million is $1.2 million more than the agency can expect to receive from its main revenue source, the driver's license fee.

"The main thing they need is some money," Mashburn said.

The comptroller's office supervises preparation of agency budget requests and Mashburn and his staff have worked closely with Gov. Orval E. Faubus in preparation of budget recommendations which differ in some instances from departmental requests.

Mashburn's statement meant that the legislature, if it wants to solve financial difficulties of the State Police, will have to raise the driver's license fee (now $2 a year), give the State Police some money from general revenues, or find some new special revenue source.

The department was prepared to ask the council later today for $3,573,857 next year, an increase of almost $1.2 million.

Mrs. R. M. Burton, 75, Dies Here

Mrs. Ralph M. Burton, 76, a resident of Hope for the past 15 months died Saturday in a local hospital. She and her husband were residents of Lewisville or 40 years.

She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian Church, taught Sunday School and was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary. Mrs. Burton was a member of the UDC and the John Cain Chapter of the DAR. She was a graduate of Louisiana Tech at Ruston, 3.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roy Allison of Hope and Mrs. Ellis A. Lavender of Dallas.

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Lewisville Presbyterian Church. Burial by Oakcrest Funeral services was to be in Wilson Cemetery of Lewisville.

Some Democrats Balk at Rule Change Fearing Runaway House on Unwanted Laws

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some top-level Democrats are counseling colleagues to proceed with caution in considering major changes in the House rules when the new Congress meets in January.

They are apprehensive that the House, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 295 to 140, may become "a runaway house" and pass legislation neither sponsored nor desired by the administration.

Numerous changes in the rules have been proposed, mainly by spokesmen for Democratic liberal groups, and all are aimed at expediting President Johnson's legislative program. But their application would not be limited to Johnson bills.

Officially, House leaders have not expressed publicly their feeling about the proposed changes. In private conversations they have voiced some misgivings.

As a result, there may be only a few relatively minor changes approved by the Democratic caucus preceding the opening of the House on Jan. 4. More far-reaching alterations could be made later in the session if the need arose. A majority vote of the House can change the rules at any time.

Most of the proposed changes would weaken the grip of the Rules Committee on bills approved by other committees having jurisdiction over legislation. The Rules Committee has no legislative jurisdiction. It serves as a legislative clearing house.

Most legislative measures cannot reach the House floor for a vote unless the Rules Committee approves. There are ways under existing rules to bypass the committee, but they seldom are effective and the committee can delay House action indefinitely if a majority of its members want to.

The committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., is composed of 10 Democrats and five Republicans. Actually, control usually is exercised by eight Democrats classified as liberals.

Before the committee was enlarged from 12 to 15 members in early 1961, a conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats often dominated and frequently frustrated the House leadership.

The conservative grip was all but broken when the membership was hiked. Since then House leaders have found the committee more cooperative.

Changes designed to curb the Rules Committee include a proposal to limit to 21 days the time the committee could delay House votes on legislation approved by other committees.

Should the 21-day rule be reinstated next year, it undoubtedly would contain a safeguard giving the speaker power to veto a legislative committee chair-man's request to call up a bill bottled by the Rules Committee for more than 21 days.

"Without such a safeguard," a top Democrat said privately, "a legislative committee could get out of hand and report legislation under pressure from special groups and there would be no way to prevent a vote."

Hope Man Shot Accidentally

Lester Huckabee accidentally shot himself yesterday while hunting. He was crossing a fence when his .22 cal. rifle discharged. The bullet struck him under the chin and came out high up on his jaw.

Mr. Huckabee was able to drive himself to a hospital where he is under treatment. His condition was described as good.

Scholarships in Music Available

Local students or prospective students of voice or musical instruments will be interested in an announcement by the National Federation of Music Clubs regarding music awards and scholarships now available. Miss Ann Ahern of Texarkana, President of the Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs, said that auditions for Arkansas will be held March 1-10 in Little Rock. Applications can be obtained from Mrs. O. L. Smith, 701 N. Van Buren, Little Rock. Deadline is February 15, 1964.

NFMC Student Auditions are open in 1965 to entrants in piano, organ, man's voice, woman's voice, violin, violoncello, and orchestral winds (flute, oboe, bassoon, French horn). There is a national award of $200 to the winner in each classification. Winners will be invited to appear on the program of the 1965 National Biennial Convention, April 24-28, in Miami Beach, Fla.

Awards and scholarships in schools at Rochester and New York, New York, Decatur, Ill., Philadelphia, Pa., and Baltimore, Md. are offered to musicians in various fields and range in amounts from $50 to $1200. Four such scholarships valued at $550 each year, are offered at Centenary College in nearby Shreveport.

Some of these scholarships are renewable each year until the student earns a Bachelor's degree, and all bear further investigation by the serious music student. The local Friday Music Club President, Mrs. Thomas E. Hays, Jr., will be glad to furnish more detailed information for anyone interested.

Old Folks Faring Better in U.S. Economy But Life Still Not Fair to Many of Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Old people are steadily faring better in our economy, but life is still not fair enough to many of them.

The average income of a retired couple has risen to $3,350 a year, and one out of three couples whose breadwinner is past 65 earns $5,000. But — the bad news is that one of three also brings in less than the $2,500 "level the U.S. Department of 'modest but adequate' standard of living.

Women now make up nearly a fifth of the membership of U.S. labor unions.

Have you learned anything lately? Some 23 million American adults are going to school. On the other hand we also have 11 million grownups who have less than six years of schooling. Educators refer to them as "functional illiterates." One of the brightest men I ever knew could be so classified. He was my father, who only went through the third grade, but conducted a business, owned two houses and a farm, and raised five children. It is my opinion that he would punch in the nose anyone who called him a "functional illiterate."

Quotable notable: "Life is a sentence that man has to serve for the crime of being born."

Calderon. Here is something to mull over: It is said that more than 90 per cent of blue-eyed cats are hard of hearing.

Socrates, a hen-pecked husband who has sometimes been referred to as the wisest man who ever lived, was wary of any legislation to make the sexes equal. He warned, "Once made equal to man, woman becomes his superior."

Ice causes fewer automobile accidents than fog. Tuberculosis, known as "the white plague," is by no means quelled. Some 35 million Americans harbor TB germs in their bodies, and the disease kills 10,000 of us annually.

Folklore: It is good luck to see a new moon over the right shoulder, bad luck over the left shoulder. If a rooster crows on your doorstep, company is coming. A bride married in black silk will live a life of woe. Rub a wart with a dishcloth, then bury the dishcloth, and the wart will go away.

Quickies: Considerateness is the quality that girls say they seek most in a husband. People are bored a third of their waking lives, according to psychologists. American motorists will journey 130 billion miles on pleasure jaunts in 1965. To no one's surprise, it has been found that teen-agers spend more time on the phone than all U.S. businessmen combined.

Forestry Queen Visits Hope

Hit by Truck, Foot Is Broken

W. C. Bruner, Jr., suffered a broken foot Saturday when struck by a truck driven by Edward E. Baker Jr. in the 200 block on Second Street downtown. Mr. Bruner was crossing the street near the middle of the block when struck down. Investigating Officers Clark and Sinclear filed no charges in the accident.

Also Saturday at Hazel and Second, cars driven by Lonnie R. Norman of Washington and Henry Williams Jr. of Hope collided with only minor damages resulting. Officers Clark and Shirley charged Norman with failure to yield right of way.

Wylie Browning Dies Saturday

Wylie E. Browning, 53, died at his home here Saturday. He was a retired plastics worker. Survivors include two sons, W. E. Browning Jr. of USNR, Rhode Island; John R. Browning of Hope; three brothers, R. O. Browning of Hot Springs; Harry and Clyde Browning of Hope; and a sister, Mrs. George Moody of Hope.

Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Oakcrest Funeral Chapel by Dr. George Balentine. Burial was to be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Lena Allen Succumbs Sunday

Mrs. Lena Allen, 74, died Sunday at her home here. She had lived in Hope for 19 years and was a member of the Methodist Church of Hot Springs. Survivors include a son, Monroe G. Allen of Hot Springs; a daughter, Mrs. H. W. Monts of Hope; two sisters, Mrs. Meredith Crumley of Emmet and Mrs. Monroe Powell of Jacksonville, Fla.; two brothers, Clinton Breed of Emmet and Otis Breed of Hope.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Monday at Oakcrest Chapel by the Rev. Robert Moore. Burial by Oakcrest was to be in Greenwood Cemetery at Hot Springs. Graveside services were scheduled for 3 p.m.

Taylor to Ask Expansion of Viet Nam War

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor believes that U.S. air strikes against Communist bases and supply lines in North Viet Nam and Laos could contribute to victory in South Viet Nam.

He also believes that the outcome of the anti-Communist guerrilla war is "very much in doubt."

The ambassador's appraisal, made in an interview with Life magazine, set off speculation that he might recommend an escalation of the war when he meets this week with President Johnson in Washington. Taylor flies home Wednesday.

"Military action outside the country, just as pure military action inside the country, will not win in itself," Taylor cautioned in the interview. "Let us say generally that the issue is very much in doubt. The winner (Continued on Page Two)

Five Persons Killed in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 13-year-old Lepanto girl was killed Sunday when she was hit by a car on Arkansas 140, about three miles northeast of Lepanto.

The death brought to five the number of persons killed in accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, an Associated Press count shows.

State Police said Polly Mae Worth was killed in the Lepanto accident. Driver of the car was Mrs. W. M. Hart of Osceola.

Miss Charlene Vest, 30, of Brinkley was killed Saturday when the car she was in collided with a tractor-trailer at the intersection of U.S. 70 and U.S. 79, about five miles west of the West Memphis. Five others in the car were injured, and all were listed in fair condition at a West Memphis hospital.

Friday night, two persons were killed and four others were seriously hurt in a two-car collision on U.S. 67, 5 1/2 miles south of Malvern.

Killed were Dr. William H. Richardson, 45, of Texarkana and Roy Halpine, 16, of Malvern. Both drivers, Mrs. Richardson, 40, and Tommy Oswalt, 16, of Malvern, were among those injured.

Ricky Webb, 17, of Quitman was killed Saturday night in a head-on, two-car collision on Arkansas 25 at Heber Springs. Three other Quitman youths were hospitalized, including the driver, Phillip Varvel, 17, who was listed in critical condition. Driver of the other car was Floyd Townsel, 40, of Heber Springs.

Southwestern breezes raised temperatures to near normal in the middle of the United States after two very chilly nights.

Temperatures early this morning ranged from 1 degree above zero at Houlton, Maine, to 75 at Key West and West Palm Beach, Fla.

The following statement was issued by Mrs. Mabel Ward, Chairman of the Blood Bank program and Dr. Lowell Harris, Chairman of the Hempstead County Red Cross. "We volunteer Red Cross workers and I am sure, the people of Hempstead County wish to thank those who donated blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank. Blood is an item that we could scarcely do without and often saves lives. Unfortunately, blood cannot be commercially manufactured so we must get it from people. The Red Cross blood banking program offers many advantages to all concerned including the patient who receives the blood. At present we are using more than two times as much blood as we give in this county. Giving blood is an almost painless procedure and does not hinder the health of those found qualified to give. Doctors and nurses check you before you give to make sure you are healthy enough to give. The Blood Mobile will be in Hope February 22, please consider it your duty and present yourself to be checked to see if you are qualified to give blood."

Airliner Explodes on Takeoff, 50 of 86 Aboard Killed

Railway Strike Set for Today Is Postponed

CHICAGO (AP)—Postponement of a nationwide strike scheduled for 6 a.m. today will allow rail traffic to move as usual this Thanksgiving week, but negotiations between the railroads and three unions will resume next week in Washington.

The three non-operating shop craft unions put off the threatened strike for at least a week, Sunday after receiving an urgent request by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Later Sunday, J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, telephoned Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District Court that the carriers were dropping an injunction petition which sought an order barring the strike.

Great Lakes Area to Get Some Relief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clearing skies promised relief today to the eastern edge of the Great Lakes region where weekend storms dumped up to three feet of snow. Only flurries were predicted for today.

Dry weather prevailed throughout most of the rest of the nation, except in the Pacific Northwest. Snow continued to accumulate in the mountains there, and rain drenched lower altitudes. Cape Blanco, Ore., had 1 1/4 inches of rain Sunday afternoon and evening.

In the East, 38 inches of snow was reported over the weekend at Two Hill, N.Y., and as much as two feet of snow piled up in other spots on the eastern and southern shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. More than 200 motorists were stranded Saturday in western New York and two women were killed there in weather-connected highway accidents.

NEW YORK (AP)—Trans World Airlines here said the airplane disaster at a Rome airport this morning was caused by the jetliner hitting a truck during an abortive take-off.

TWA said the plane, flight 800 originating Sunday in Kansas City and destined for Cairo, had 72 persons aboard at the time.

Capt. J. E. Frankum, TWA vice president, said in New York that the jetliner was "aborting" its takeoff.

"Unfortunately there was a truck in the vicinity of the runway," Frankum said.

Frankum said the truck's location was "not clear" in TWA's first reports from Rome, but that it was believed to have been on a taxiway adjacent to the runway from which the jetliner was to take off.

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP)—A four-jet airliner carrying 72 persons exploded in flames today after colliding with a road grader and about 50 of those aboard were reported killed.

The plane, a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707, was gathering speed for a takeoff at Fiumicino Airport, but suddenly wobbled.

Of the 72 persons aboard — 55 passengers and a double crew totaling 17 — at least 20 survived. Most suffered grave injuries and were rushed to hospitals. Among the passengers were reported to be 26 TWA employees and families.

Among the survivors was the pilot, identified as Capt. Vernon Lowell, Glen Head, N.Y.

The flight, TWA 800, originated in Kansas City, Mo., and stopped in Chicago, New York, Paris and Milan before reaching Rome. It was headed from Rome to Athens and Cairo.

Accounts of mechanics and other workers at the scene said the crash occurred this way: The plane was speeding down the runway when flames erupted from one of the wheel assemblies.

The plane started to wobble as the captain applied the brakes. By this time the plane had passed the end of the runway and crossed on into a cross-runway under repair.

The plane's right outside motor knocked over a parked road a halt, doors opened and passengers began jumping out.

There was an explosion, the plane burst into flames. Then other explosions shattered the wreckage.

Brought to hospitals were a Martin Chappier, Ernest Havell Jones, an American serviceman from Louisiana, and two Ethiopian citizens, Didane Kenu, 3, and Tespaye Tette, 24. They were only slightly injured.

Witnesses said fuel poured from one of the plane's tanks after it hit the grader. The fuel ignited, they said, and the plane exploded 200 yards further along.

Anti-Poverty Act Office Praised

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The executive secretary of the Arkansas Council of Churches praised Sunday the promptness of Gov. Orval E. Faubus in setting up a state office to implement the anti-poverty act in Arkansas.

Rev. Sam J. Allen also commended Faubus for supporting a minimum wage law for the state.

Allen said the Little Rock Conference on Religion and Human Relations, made up of Catholics, Protestants and Jews, would be called on to take a lead in working at the local level in the war against poverty.

Marchetti Leads Colts to Victory

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Colts are planning a retirement party for Gino Marchetti that promises to be more exciting than the one they gave him when he retired last year.

The prize defensive end helped prepare for the festivities Sunday as the Colts whipped Los Angeles 24-7 and clinched first place in the National Football League's Western Conference.

The victory, their 10th straight since losing the season opener to Minnesota, brought the Colts their first conference title since 1958 and 1959 when they also won the league championship.

Immediately after the game, Marchetti announced this was his last season. But retiring is nothing new to the 37-year-old veteran of 13 years in the NFL. He quit after last season, only to be convinced to return for another year.

Even though his bones might not appreciate his decision, Marchetti himself must. Instead of going out on a third-place team that won eight games and lost six, he will retire — if he actually does — after a championship game.

The Colts most likely will play the Cleveland Browns, who lost to Green Bay 28-21 Sunday but still hold a 1½-game lead over St. Louis in the East with three games to play.

Marchetti led a Colt blitz that constantly kept the Los Angeles quarterbacks on their backs. Roman Gabriel was dumped six times for 56 yards in losses and Bill Munson five times for 46 yards, a total of 102.

"What a great game they played," said Baltimore Coach Don Shula of the defensive unit.

In other games, St. Louis crushed Philadelphia 38-13, Detroit tied Minnesota 23-23, Pittsburgh annihilated New York 44-17, Chicago edged San Francisco 23-21 and Washington trimmed Dallas 28-16.

Lenny Moore, who has scored touchdowns in more consecutive games than any other NFL player in history, put the Colts in front with an 18-yard scoring romp in the first quarter. It was the 14th straight game in which he has scored.

Johnny Unitas set up the touchdown with a 62-yard pass to John Mackey. Jerry Hill scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown on a 17-yard run in the third quarter. Los Angeles finally scored in the fourth quarter on Munson's 21-yard pass to Bucky Pope.

Green Bay used a fumble by Jimmy Brown to help hold Cleveland's magic number at two. Any number of Cleveland victories and St. Louis losses totaling two will give the Browns the Eastern title.

Bart Starr scored the Packers' go-ahead touchdown on a four-yard dash shortly after Lionel Alridge fell on Brown's fumble at the Cleveland 22. Starr's 55-yard pass to Max McGee on a fourth-down-and-inches situation at the Packers' 44 set up the tying score 3½ minutes earlier.

Railway Strike

Both sides accepted Wirtz's suggestion to resume talks in Washington Nov. 30.

The unions, representing 49,000 employees, are the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the Sheet Metal Workers International Association and the International Association of Machinists.

A union spokesman said Wirtz was advised in response to his request for a postponement "that for the first time there is some hope of settlement of our dispute."

Three other shop craft unions signed three-year contracts Saturday, bringing to eight the number of non-operating unions which have negotiated wage and fringe-benefit agreements in the past few days.

Terms of the contracts, which closely followed the recommendations of a presidential emergency board, provide more than 367,000 workers of the eight unions with a 27-cent-per-hour wage increase over three years plus improved fringe benefits.

The average pay of workers covered by the eight unions ranges between $2.58 and $2.63 per hour.

Earlier last week, the railroads and two operating unions agreed on new contracts. The settlements covered 28,000 workers in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and 96,000 in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

will be the one that has the ultimate will to win. But the military aspect is only one piece of it."

U.S. policy-makers, dissatisfied with the way the war has been going, have been studying the possibility of extending to the north to check support of the Viet Cong. Some observers fear Communist China then might take a direct hand.

Taylor said the Communists have grown in strength despite heavy losses. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, said in the Life interview that body counts show 12,000 Viet Cong have been killed so far this year compared with 6,000 government casualties. He said actual Communist losses probably totaled 18,000.

"It is absolutely inconceivable to me that the Viet Cong could ever militarily defeat the armed forces of South Viet Nam," Westmoreland said.

Saigon was hit Sunday by its most serious antigovernment riot since Premier Tran Van Huong took power two and a half weeks ago. Huong ordered police and paratroopers to use tear gas to disperse a march of 1,000 Buddhists on the government palace.

An earlier Buddhist demonstration in which a score of persons were injured and 40 arrested touched off the palace march. Police swung clubs and kicked with heavy boots to scatter the dissidents calling for Huong's resignation. The Buddhists claimed four persons were killed but the government denied this.

grave to lay roses on it, and to pray.

In Boston about 3,000 persons, including Patricia Lawford, the late president's sister, and state dignitaries, attended a memorial Mass celebrated by Richard Cardinal Cushing. He called the slain president one of "God's greatest gifts."

Tens of thousands stood in silent prayer at New York's Kennedy Airport and in Dallas ing Tuesday will be concerned primarily with which schools the children must attend while the lawsuit is pending.

Decided on Very Last Golf Putt

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) —

at the hour of Kennedy's death. World leaders again issued declarations of sorrow, as so many of them had exactly one year before.

In Bonn, Mayor Wilhelm Dantsch laid a wreath at the John F. Kennedy Bridge across the Rhine River.

Dutchmen flocked to Amsterdam's Kennedy Avenue to look at a bust of the late president which was unveiled Sunday.

The 1964 championship of the PGA circuit was decided on the very last putt in the year's final tournament.

Big Jack Nicklaus edged Arnold Palmer on a 15-foot putt — not his or not even Palmer's, but one missed by Gay Brewer Jr.

Had Brewer sunk the ball on the 18th green of the Oakbourne Country Club course in Sunday's final round of the $25,000 Cajun Classic, Palmer would have retained the money championship he had won the two previous years.

The putt cost Brewer $200. He'd have won $2,100 by finishing alone in second place, but he had to settle for a tie with Nicklaus, while Palmer finished third.

The showdown for top money honors of the year overshadowed the blazing triumph of Miller Barber, who won the Cajun Classic — his first official tour victory ever — by five strokes.

While the temperature hovered just above freezing and most players hovered just above par, and higher, Barber, a balding 33-year-old Louisiana native, fashioned a 68 and a 67 in the marathon windup Sunday.

Sunday's 36 holes was scheduled after rain washed out the opening round of play.

Nicklaus' $1,900 prize money here boosted his earning to $113,284 — $81.13 more than Palmer made.

Faubus Would Give Cities More Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.

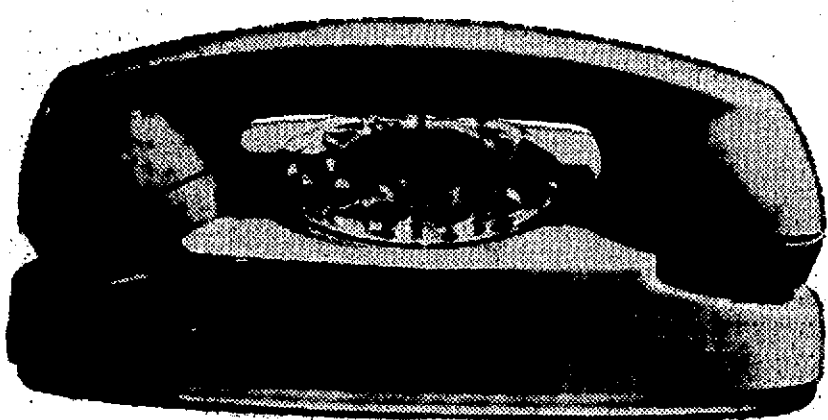

Orval E. Faubus has endorsed an Arkansas Municipal League suggestion that cities receive 10 per cent of all future increases in general revenues. William G. Fleming, assistant league director, said Saturday.

Fleming said at a news conference that cities are seeking a more equitable distribution of state turnback funds and would fight for this, regardless of any home rule legislation by the 1965 general assembly.

Home rule legislation to give cities more taxing power has been discussed as a means of relieving municipal financial problems.

A WALL PHONE helps make Mom's day in the kitchen less hectic, and those coffee-time chats more enjoyable. The kitchen, after all, is her office, and a telephone is a "must." The wall telephone is handy, but out of the way, and it's available in the decorator colors she's most likely to choose . . . pink, yellow, beige or white.

A PRINCESS® PHONE is a truly personal extension phone for your own "princess" . . . or for yourself. It's a space-saving natural for any room in the home, but the light-up dial makes it an especially appropriate bedroom phone. The Princess phone is available in five colors . . . white, beige, pink, blue or turquoise.

A DESK PHONE makes the den as convenient as Dad's own office, for privacy in making and taking calls. Dad would probably like a beige, green or white one for his den, but for Mom's sewing room, maybe a pink or blue one would fit better. Desk phones are available in all five colors.

Monday, November 23

The Hope Community Theatre will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Routon Monday, November 23, at 7:30.

Tuesday, November 24

Chapter AE, P.E.O., will meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday, November 24, in the home of Mrs. E. P. O'Neal, with Mrs. Jim McKenzie as co-hostess.

The Cosmopolitan Club will meet Tuesday, November 24 at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lyle Brown with Mrs. Royce Smith, co-hostess.

Wednesday, November 25

The Hope Junior Auxiliary will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday, November 25 in the Community Room of the First National Bank with the executive meeting preceding at 9:30 a.m.

Lilac Garden Club

The Lilac Garden Club of Hope went to Blevins Wednesday, November 18 for a meeting in the home of Mrs. N. P. Nesbitt. Mrs. P. C. Stephens and Mrs. W. D. Cohea were co-hostesses. After Mrs. Cohea led the group in the club creed, the president, Mrs. Roy Taylor, conducted a brief and routine business meeting.

"Chrysanthemums" was the subject of the program which Mrs. Blair Shuford presented. Members brought arrangements using chrysanthemums in the design of their choice. These received constructive criticism from two club guests, Mrs. Harold Stephens and Mrs. J. M. Walker.

During the refreshment hour the hostesses served dessert, nuts, and coffee to 15 members and the two guests.

Country Club Bridge Luncheon

There were about 35 at the monthly Ladies Bridge Luncheon at the Hope Country Club. Pretty chrysanthemums decorated the mantle and the tables from where a delicious potluck luncheon was served. Individual quartet tables were enhanced with pink camellias.

After the meal, bridge was played at 7 tables. High scorer was Mrs. E. E. Wassell. Others winning prizes were Mrs. Brack Schenck, Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Burns, and Mrs. S. L. Murphy. Hostesses were: Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr., Mrs. Kinard Young, and Mrs. George Robinson.

Homemakers HD Club

Mrs. Cecil McKelvie was hostess for the Homemakers Home Demonstration Club meeting on Tuesday, November 17. The president, Mrs. Carlton Roberts, called the meeting to order and led in the singing of the opening song, "Showers o' Blessings."

The hostess chose Psalm 95 for the devotion, and Mrs. George Hartsfield voiced the prayer. Continuing the study of Civil Defense, Mrs. V. B. Beggs taught the lesson, "Facts and Fallacies on Natural and Nuclear Radiation."

Interesting and helpful household hints were given in answer to the call. After a short business session, the group was dismissed by repeating the Home Demonstration Club Women's Creed.

A period of recreation was enjoyed with Mrs. David McKee the winner of the Door Prize. Cake, coffee, and cold drinks were served. Mrs. Coy Breeding will be the hostess for the December 8 meeting.

Centerville HD Club

Making candles and poinsettias for Christmas decorations was the eye opener which Mrs. William Altom used for the Centerville Home Demonstration Club meeting on Wednesday, November 18 in the home of Mrs. P. F. Campbell. Mrs. R. C. Snellgrove called the meeting to order, and Mrs. E. O. Bright led the singing of "Work For The Night Is Coming."

"Thanksgiving Is Many Things" was the devotion by Mrs. Campbell, and the Home-makers Prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs. Joe Harper gave the lesson, "Facts and Fallacies on Natural and Nuclear Radiation." After the business meeting, Mrs. Hugh Bearden gave a health report and Mrs. Snellgrove read a poem.

Mrs. Howard Underwood joined the club as a new member. She, her children, Jerome and Paula Kaye, and 10 club members were served pumpkin pie, assorted nuts, and cocoa or coffee.

The Christmas party will be in the home of Mrs. Altom with Mrs. Snellgrove as co-hostess. Members are asked to bring a gift for their Secret Pals and one for exchange.

Golden Age Club Meets

The Golden Age Club met November 19 at the Youthcenter with eight members present. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Coats. Mrs. Vaughn read from John 5:24. Mrs. Tullis called the roll.

Cookies, cake and coffee were served to the members present. The next meeting will be held December 3, at which time they will decide on having their Christmas dinner. Also, vote on new officers. All members are urged to be present for the coming year.

Coming and Going

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt has returned from a visit with her brother, Stuart Spraggins, in Little Rock. She attended the Jan Peerce concert on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruffin White of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Florence Hicks, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Springer Jr., and family, Macon, Ga., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Springer, Sr.

Base Closing Won't Hurt Armed Forces

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is of the firm opinion that the closing of hundreds of military installations, great and small, will not diminish the fighting ability of the armed forces.

Over the past four years 574 U.S. military bases around the world—the great majority of them in this country—have been closed or their activities sharply cut back. Thursday, he tackled another 95 to the list.

These bases "have outlived their usefulness for military missions," are obsolete and unnecessary, the Pentagon chief says in explaining his program. By closing them, he says, "we can achieve economies and at the same time increase our combat effectiveness and our military power."

In announcing the latest cut-back, McNamara referred to three categories of bases directly related to operations of the armed forces—shipyards, bomber bases and missile launching sites—and told why he thought changing conditions and new tactics and technology had rendered them obsolete and surplus.

New and better missiles are replacing the first models, rushed into firing position in the initial frantic race to match and exceed Soviet missile strength. The liquid-fueled, surface-based Atlas and Titan I ICBMs are being shelved and their launching sites closed because of the "very sizable inventory" of improved Titan II and Minuteman missiles.

The Air Force has about 650 Minuteman missiles in launching silos, eventually may build this to about 1,000.

The Defense Department has been cutting back the number of older B-47 medium bombers for some years, with their missions taken over by the somewhat more recent B-52 heavies, of which the Air Force has about 630. So the bases from which the B-47s operated are no longer needed. And more B-52s are being assigned to fewer bases.

The Pentagon strategic warfare experts claim that the nuclear firepower that can be delivered by the B-52 fleet more than offsets the original combination of B-47s and B-52s.

McNamara and the special board he created to make a study decided that the present operating fleet of about 860 Navy ships could be repaired and maintained and new ships built with fewer government-owned, high-cost yards. Therefore, they picked two big yards to be closed, two others to be merged. These, combined with private yard facilities, are considered adequate for the Navy's operations and shipbuilding programs.

The cutback in shipyards reflects essentially McNamara's drive for efficiency and economy rather than a belief that the day of warships is waning.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes to train 150,000 boys and girls in the first year of the neighborhood Youth Corps program.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, in announcing start of the corps Thursday, said the program will concentrate on "not the easy cases but the hard ones" in training youths 16 to 21, many of whom have never held jobs.

Wirtz said $110 million to $150 million will be spent the first year. He said the youngsters will work in hospitals, libraries, city agencies, playground and school programs, nonprofit private projects and others that have value to the community.

Wirtz appointed Jack Howard, 40, a Labor Department official, to head the program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civilian payroll costs of the federal government increased by $6.8 billion the last 10 years, a congressional committee reported today.

During this period, the number of employees of all federal agencies increased by more than 52,000, the report of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures noted.

In the 10-year period, the report said, civilian agencies increased their employment by more than a quarter-million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only trouble with most advertised shark repellants is that those which work at all are as likely to attract as to shoo off the dread killers of the sea.

This warning by the "shark research panel" of U.S. Navy and civilian scientists was coupled with a proposal that the government do something about it by creating a federal agency to crack down on claims that "border on the fraudulent."

The panel agreed Thursday on recommending only one type of repellent. It is a Navy developed dye (nigrocin) that produces in the water a kind of smoke screen that confuses sharks and conceals their potential victims.

Economy Has Continued to Climb

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In the year since bullets cut short the life of President John F. Kennedy the economy has continued its steady climb with only occasional bobbles and with misgivings mostly proving temporary. Policies under way a year ago are by and large still in effect, or increasingly taking effect. And many of 1963's problems are still with us too.

Most individuals and business firms are more prosperous today. Most can count more money at hand — in wages or profits. Most seem more confident that still higher heights lie ahead.

And yet in more sober moments must realize that the same trouble spots and uncertainties still preach caution: unemployment too high for complacency and still largely unyielding; foreign challenges only partly predictable and changing from day to day; the outflow of dollars reduced a bit but a constant worry to the guardians of the dollar's value and reputation; labor-management disputes able to clip the economy's growth, however temporarily, and posing new uncertainties of their own.

But the figures in Americans' research panel" of U.S. Navy and civilian scientists was coupled with a proposal that the government do something about it by creating a federal agency to crack down on claims that "border on the fraudulent."

The panel agreed Thursday on recommending only one type of repellent. It is a Navy developed dye (nigrocin) that produces in the water a kind of smoke screen that confuses sharks and conceals their potential victims.

The rise of nearly 150 points since then doesn't measure the prosperity, but it does show how many Americans are evaluating it.

balance book show how today's prosperity compares with its already high level a year ago.

In the fall of 1963 the dollar value of the nation's output of goods and services was running at an annual rate of $587.2 billion. Today the figure is $628.4 billion, with still higher totals forecast.

Personal income was running at an annual rate of $466.3 billion a year ago. It has continued to climb and today is put at $498.6 billion.

Those extra dollars, some $32 billion, are going for many things. They are pushing up personal spending, from $377.4 billion a year ago to around $494.5 billion now. And that means that retail sales are riding high above last year, that the service industries are taking in far more money, that recreation spending soars.

Savings institutions are getting many of the dollars, too. Today's annual rate is estimated at $32.2 billion being saved by individuals, against $27 billion a year ago.

The prosperity has sent industrial production climbing almost steadily, with the rare dips charged to temporary factors such as strikes. The government's index shows the output of the nation's factories, mines and utilities 131.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average, up from 126.1 a year ago.

The government statistics reflect the growth in the economy over the last year. One of several mirrors of confidence can be found in the stock market. A year ago the Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks stood just above 742.

The rise of nearly 150 points since then doesn't measure the prosperity, but it does show how many Americans are evaluating it.

Forgives Vandals Who Wrecked Place

CHADDS FORD, Ala. (AP) — "This is the way I have chosen to try and make some good come out of this unfortunate incident," said artist Andrew Wyeth as he announced he would forgive vandals who damaged his studio last Oct. 31, if:

They "come to me personally and make restitution according to their conscience and ability to pay; give solid evidence that they understand the personal harm in their act and would never repeat it. Any who do not fulfill these to me will be prosecuted."

Wyeth said state police had told him they have the names of about 40 of a gang of some 50 youths who sacked his studio, smashing and damaging art works. Wyeth said eight had visited him Saturday to apologize, pleading their lives "lacked excitement and real things to do."

"We're getting along fine," R. E. Hartzog, editor of the Friday Harbor Journal, summed up the situation Sunday as Washington's San Juan Islands faced several weeks of power rationing.

An underwater cable from the mainland broke Thursday night, cutting off the supply of nearly 6,000 power users. The break was tentatively located Saturday. William Frans, Bonneville power administration area manager, said it is impossible to tell how long the repair job will take, but it will be weeks.

Diesel generators are supplying part of the need.

'Also Rans' in SWC Battle for Third Position

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference football race make a "lame duck" finish this week with the championship and runner-up spots decided and both teams in bowl games.

Arkansas shut out Texas Tech 17-0 Saturday to finish the season undefeated and untied through 10 games and rack up its second undisputed title in five years. Another time Arkansas tied for it.

Arkansas already was in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas waited hopefully. The Longhorns wanted Arkansas to lose to Texas Tech so they might tie for the title by beating Texas A&M at Austin Thursday. But it didn't happen and Texas wound up second and will go to the Orange Bowl against Alabama whether it beats A&M or not.

Two games next Saturday end football business for the year except for the bowls, in which the conference has two teams and may make it three if Texas Tech gets in one. Tech seems likely for the Sun Bowl.

Rice and Baylor battle for third place at Waco. Southern Methodist tries to at least have company in the cellar by beating Texas Christian at Dallas.

With all pressing business out of the way, it is well to consider the league's prospects in the bowls.

Nebraska, Arkansas' foe in the Cotton Bowl, stumbled to Oklahoma in its final game and thus robbed the Dallas post-season classic of two undefeated, untied teams.

That 17-7 Nebraska defeat to Oklahoma only served to make Arkansas the favorite. Texas beat Oklahoma 28-7 and Arkansas beat Texas 14-13. So doesn't that make Arkansas about a 30-point selection over Nebraska?

There is another game that can serve as a criterion. Arkansas edged Oklahoma State 14-10 and Nebraska beat Oklahoma State 27-14. So how does that leave things?

Texas and Alabama had one mutual opponent—Tulane. Texas beat Tulane 31-0. Alabama licked the Green Wave 36-6. That should make Texas and Alabama about even. But Alabama won over Mississippi State 23-6 and Texas Tech beat Mississippi State 21-7. Texas lashed Texas Tech 23-0. So what does it all mean?

Three conference games were played last week as Texas and Texas A&M rested and corralled their energies for their Thanksgiving Day clash.

Arkansas-Texas Tech was the big one but Rice took over third

Colts Owner Provides 50 Scholarships

By GEORGE A. BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Let me know what you need," said Carroll Rosenbloom.

There are 50 boys in colleges this year partly because of that offer by the owner of the Baltimore Colts.

None is an athlete. Or if he is, it had nothing to do with being given the amount of money he lacked to go to the college of his choice. Neither did scholarship. The program is for the "real poor."

"It was one cold day in 1953 when (Carroll) branched the idea," recalls A. Paul Menton, sports editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun. "We were standing on the field watching the Colts get ready for the national Football League championship against the Giants in New York."

"Carroll said he would like to set up a foundation to help Maryland boys who really needed help to go to college."

It was done with the sports editors of the three Baltimore daily newspapers, the Colts' lawyer and Rosenbloom as the trustees. But Rosenbloom won't allow his name used on the stationery of the Baltimore Colts Foundation.

Rosenbloom fixed no limits for the foundation, just wanted to know each year how much it distributed.

"He thought after it was established," Menton said, "that we would try to get donations from other people or industries. But 99.9 per cent of the income has been either directly from the Colts or through their advertising contracts."

As president and keeper of the records, Menton reported the foundation had given away $139,875 since 1959. Expenses totaled $261.

The money has gone to 95 boys at 15 colleges. Eight of the colleges don't even have a football team. Few of the boys study physical education, for that matter.

Their majors include nuclear engineering, economics, law, medicine, chemistry and sociology. One boy entered the ministry.

There have been 28 graduates aided by the Colt Foundation. Eight of them continued in graduate work and another is in place with a 31-0 rout of Texas Christian and Baylor stayed a step behind by keeping Southern Methodist winless 16-13.

Bowl Picture Now Clear in Every Section

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's Michigan in the Rose Bowl but the Wolverines may have to sweat it out a week before learning the identity of their opponent — Oregon State or Southern California.

Over-all records favor Oregon State but the Pacific Coast selectors are expected to wait and see how Southern California fares against top-ranked Notre Dame Saturday.

Should the Trojans happen to upset the mighty Fighting Irish, a feat nine others have failed to do this year, they likely would be lapped for the host role at Pasadena. If the Trojans lose, it would send the momentum swinging to Oregon State.

Athletic directors of the eight Pacific Athletic Conference members take a preliminary vote today. If they're not unanimous, then the next ballot will be put off until Nov. 29.

Oregon State and Southern Cal finished with similar 3-1 records in conference play but Oregon State's over-all 8-2 mark is more impressive than the Trojans' 6-3. The PAC selectors have no strings attached. They can pick whom they please.

With one more week of heavy football, headlined by the Notre Dame-Southern Cal game at Los Angeles and the Army-Navv service spectacle at Philadelphia, the major bowl line-up is almost set.

Here it is:

ROSE BOWL — Michigan, 8-1, vs. Oregon State, 8-2, or Southern California, 6-3.

COTTON BOWL — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Nebraska, 9-1.

ORANGE BOWL — Alabama, 9-0, vs. Texas, 8-1.

SUGAR BOWL — Louisiana State, 7-1, vs. Syracuse, 7-3.

GATOR BOWL — Florida State, 8-1, vs. opponent yet to be named.

RIEBOURNET BOWL — Tulsa, 7-2, vs. Mississippi, 5-3-1.

None of the bowls can offer a game with national championship implications as the game between the Nos. 1 and 2 teams.

Texas and Navy, last New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl. Notre Dame, firmly fixed in the No. 1 position with an imposing 9-0 record, has withdrawn from consideration, helped along by the fact the big bowls couldn't wait, anyhow.

The Irish smashed Iowa 28-0 in freezing cold at South Bend and now need only to take care of Southern Cal to wind up their first perfect football year since 1949.

Alabama, the No. 2 team which has chosen to spend the holidays in Miami's sunshine, has a rugged Thanksgiving Day assignment coming up with Auburn, an old rival that upset the Tide last year.

LSU, Syracuse's opponent at New Orleans, still has a game left with Florida, Dec. 5.

The defeat of Nebraska left only four major teams with perfect records, and two of these, Notre Dame and Alabama, are still in danger. The others are Arkansas and Princeton, 9-0.

Arkansas, led by quarterback Fred Marshall, posted its fifth straight shutout and completed medical college.

Although "Carroll would have gone for more," Menton said it was decided to spread about $30,000 a year to needy students.

"We felt it would be better to have a solid foundation," Menton said. "If we could fulfill Carroll's wishes and get substantial contributions elsewhere, we hope to do the same thing for girls."

"We just don't have the resources now. We are able to help only two out of the five boys recommended to us."

The recommendations are made by officials of colleges. The first screening by the trustees is based on extreme hardship. Those called in for interviews are required to provide a full accounting of their financial resources.

The trustees figure how much the boy needs and he gets all or none.

"We won't give him part because then he would be worried," explains Menton.

Skimming through the files and correspondence, Menton said there is a "real satisfaction knowing that many of these boys would not have been able to go to college without help of the foundation."

"One word sums up what you have done for me," wrote a recipient. "Faith. Faith in me and encouragement to me to accomplish what I first thought was impossible."

its first unbeaten-untied season in 55 years by stopping Texas Tech 17-0. Princeton clinched the Ivy League title, subduing Cornell 17-12.

Michigan used a couple of Ohio boys who got away from Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes in beating the Buckeyes at Columbus 10-0 for the Big Ten championship and the first trip to the Rose Bowl in 14 years.

Bob Timberlake of Franklin, Ohio, threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Jim Detwiler of Toledo. Timberlake also kicked the extra point and added a 27-yard field goal to account for all the Wolverine scoring.

Oregon State and Southern California kept their bowl hopes breathing with victories on the West Coast. Oregon State edged Oregon 7-4 and Southern Cal bumped UCLA 34-13.

Of the Top Ten teams, four were beaten. These were Nebraska, No. 4; Ohio State, No. 7; Syracuse, No. 9, and Oregon, No. 10.

Winners were Notre Dame, No. 1; Arkansas, No. 3; Michigan, No. 6, and Louisiana State, No. 8. LSU downed Tulane 13-3 with left-footed kicker Dean Moreau booting two field goals. Alabama, No. 2, and Texas, No. 5, did not play while preparing for tough Thanksgiving Day assignments. Texas coses with Texas A & M.

The No. 1 Irish, playing in 15-degree cold, throttled Iowa's passing ace, Gary Snook, and piled up four touchdowns on the power running of Bill Wolski and the passing of John Huarte.

Florida State drew a Gator Bowl bid after beating Florida 16-7 for an 8-1-1 season's record. Les Murdock's three field goals proved to be the winning margin.

Tulsa received another top performance from record-setting passer, Jerry Rhome. Rhome hit for 21 of 35 in beating Toledo 39-16. He passed for two touchdowns and ran for another.

Upsets marked the traditional games throughout the country. Harvard beat Yale 18-14. South Carolina surprised Clemson 7-3. North Carolina beat Duke 21-15. Kentucky edged favored Tennessee 12-7. Wisconsin, with five losses in six previous conference games, downed Minnesota 14-7.

Missouri spoiled Kansas' hopes for a share of the Big Eight title 34-14. Colorado, with only one victory, upset the Air Force 28-23. Stanford rallied in the second half for a 21-3 triumph over California.

Bobcats Not Rated High by the 'Experts'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Conway Wampus Cats, Class 3AA-West champions with an 11-0 season record, were voted the state's No. 1 high school football team for the fourth straight time this week.

Others in the Associated Press' poll of sportswriters and sportscasters were, in order, Little Rock Hall, Little Rock Central, Texarkana, Little Rock Catholic, Stuttgart, Fort Smith Northside, Pine Bluff, Rogers and Blytheville.

The top five teams were unchanged from last week.

Conway, first Class AA team to hold down the top spot, gave Mabelvale a 7-0 halftime lead, but roared back for a 30-7 victory to finish the season.

The Wampus Cats beat two Class AAA schools, North Little Rock and Little Rock Central, and Conway beat the Tigers when Central was the to-rated team.

Here's how the rest of the top five did last week: Hall beat El Dorado 7-0, Central and Blytheville tied 20-20, Texarkana won over North Little Rock 6-0 and Catholic beat Searcy 34-7.

Stuttgart moved up one spot to sixth, after a 33-0 triumph over Paragould. Fort Smith, which didn't play, fell one place to seventh; Pine Bluff, 14-0 winners over Hot Springs, stayed in eighth; Rogers, which finished with a 10-0 season, moved up one to ninth, and Blytheville, unrated last week, moved into tenth after the tie with Central.

North Little Rock dropped out from ninth after Texarkana's victory.

Conway took over the No. 1 spot on Nov. 2. Other teams which have led the Associated Press poll this season are:

Fort Smith, Aug. 31, Sept. 14 and Sept. 21; Texarkana, Sept. 7 and Sept. 28; Little Rock Hall, Oct. 5 and Oct. 12; and Little Rock Central, Oct. 19 and Oct. 26.

Results of the poll, with first place votes in parentheses, and total points at right.

1. Conway (6) ..... 78
2. Little Rock Hall (2) ..... 73
3. Little Rock Central ..... 58
4. Texarkana ..... 49
5. Little Rock Catholic ..... 47

Leadership of Seniors Kept Hogs Unbeaten

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Texas Tech Red Raiders got a taste of the senior leadership Coach Frank Broyles has been talking about and Arkansas got its first unbeaten team in more than half a century.

The third-ranked Razorbacks got the word from end Jerry Lamb, linebacker Ronnie Cavness and the other veterans and bounced from a scoreless first half to victory No. 10 at Lubbock, Tex., Saturday.

The score was 17-0. It was Arkansas' fifth consecutive shutout (a school record) and the 11th consecutive triumph (a school record), a streak which is tied with Alabama's string as the longest current winning streak by a major college.

A string of 16 victories held by Nebraska, Arkansas' Cotton Bowl opponent, was snapped by Oklahoma 17-7.

Cavness gave the Hogs the word in the first half and Lamb let them know at halftime that the quality of their play in the first two quarters was not up to standard for what some are calling the greatest team in Arkansas football history.

End Bobby Roper slapped down two Texas Tech field goal tries after Cavness' conference, and the Razorbacks responded with points after Lamb's.

Alternate tailback Bobby Burnett ran six yards (the last four in the air) for one touchdown. Quarterback Fred Marshall threw a 28-yard pass which Lamb wrestled from a pair of Raider defenders for another touchdown. Tom McKnelly kicked to two extra points and a 39-yard field goal.

Broyles praised the team's leadership in an interview Sunday. It has been one of his most frequent topics this year.

"It is vital," he said. "It is the secret of success for a good team."

He also called attention to the weekly progress of his defensive and offensive units and he gave the credit to his coaching aides.

"I've got the hardest working coaches I've ever had," Broyles said.

He said the team would take about two weeks off before resuming practice for the meeting with the fourth-ranked Cornhuskers in Dallas Jan. 1.

Guernsey in Two Wins at Saratoga

At Saratoga last weekend the visiting Guernsey team captured two of three games.

Rosenbaum of Guernsey with 25 points led the Junior Girls to a 60 to 31 win. Powell made 22 for the losers and Coleman 19 for the winners.

Saratoga Senior Girls downed Guernsey 48 to 32. High point for Saratoga was Arnold with 17 and Archer made 14. Guernsey's Black made 17 and Collium 8. Tullis poured in 21 and Faulkner 19 as the Guernsey Senior Boys posted a 63 to 53 win. Saratoga's Smith had 21 and Wolf 14.

near-perfect goaltending of Sawchuk into three straight National Hockey League victories and a challenging position in the scramble for first place.

Pulford scored a goal and set up another while Sawchuk stopped 33 of 34 shots Sunday night as the Leafs beat the Boston Bruins 3-1 and climbed within one point of the front-running Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings tied the New York Rangers 3-3 on Lowell MacDonal's breakaway goal in the closing minutes and the Chicago Black Hawks blitzed the Montreal Canadiens 6-2 in Sunday's other games.

Marshall Is Winner of Hall Award

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

Quarterback Fred Marshall was named winner of the C. G. (Crip) Hall Award Saturday, which is given to the outstanding Arkansas senior in the homecoming game.

Marshall started the Razorbacks to a 44-0 homecoming triumph over Southern Methodist University here Nov. 14.

The winner is selected by a poll of sportswriters and broadcasters at the game.

Marshall rushed seven times for 58 yards and passed nine times for 62 yards and a touchdown in beating SMU. This came one year and 12 days after he once decided to quit football.

That came on Nov. 2, 1963, at War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock, where the 180-pounder from Memphis was warming the bench.

"I felt I was waiting my time," he recalls.

He started as quarterback in the next game—against Rice—and though it didn't change the Razorback route to a 5-5 season, it did change his attitude.

He came back to lead Arkansas to its first 10-0 year, its first unbeaten season in 55 years, and the nation's longest winning streak among major colleges and universities.

Marshall has averaged better than 130 yards individual offense per game since he recovered from a shoulder injury that kept him benched during the first two contests this season.

Have you priced a tiger lately?

Take the GTO, for instance. The greatest tiger of them all. Even real tigers cower when this baby speaks. It loads 335 horses under that hood. Plus bucket seats. Carpeting. Real walnut dash. And like that. Yet it sells for less than a lot of pussycats with imitation stripes. And of course the GTO's optional 360-hp engine puts it so far out in front of the pack that it gets kind of lonesome. Then there's the Le Mans. Same kind of pizzazz. Same kind of crackle. Only with slightly smaller teeth. But don't worry. It can still handle the pussycats. If you haven't priced a tiger lately, you'd better. Now.

AAA Splits Teams Into 3 District

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The fast-growing Class AAA ranks had triplets Saturday and the two-way split planned for next season will become a three-way split in 1966.

Fort Smith Southside, Jacksonville and Mabelvale will officially become members of Class AAA in 1966, although they were accepted at a meeting here Saturday.

This expands to 15 the number of teams in the state's top classification for high school athletics.

The Big 12 Conference, which was the Big 10 a year ago (and Big 9 the year before), will play in two divisions next year.

They are:
 Eastern - Little Rock Central, Little Rock Hall, North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Blytheville and Jonesboro.
 Western - Fort Smith Northside, El Dorado, Texarkana, Hot Springs, Fayetteville and Springdale.

On July 1, 1966, the triple split takes effect, though the proposed divisions have not yet been given titles.

They are:
 1. Fayetteville, Springdale, Texarkana, Hot Springs, Fort Smith Southside.
 2. Jonesboro, Blytheville, Mabelvale, Jacksonville.
 3. El Dorado, Pine Bluff, Fort Smith Northside, North Little Rock, Little Rock Hall, Little Rock Central.

Champ. Hogs Set Many New Records

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - Arkansas' most successful football season in history produced a host of interesting sidelights, some of which are listed here.

-First 10-0 season in history.
 -First unbeaten season in 55 years.

-Fourth unbeaten season in history, counting 7-0 in 1909, 2-0-1 in 1897 and 1-0 in 1895.
 -Record 11-game winning streak, counting victory in last game of 1963; tying Alabama's streak for longest in the nation among major colleges and universities.

-First time since 1920-21 seasons that Arkansas had held five straight opponents scoreless.

-First time ever for Arkansas to shutout five straight opponents in one season.

-Fifth bowl game in the last six years.
 -Fourth Southwest Conference championship in five years.

-First victory over Texas since 1960.
 -Largest winning margin in a conference game, 44-0, over Southern Methodist University.

-Second fewest points permitted by the Arkansas defense: 57, compared to record low 54 in 1953.

-Highest national ranking at the end of a season, compared to previous high of sixth in 1962.
 -Seventh straight homecoming victory (Arkansas has not lost a homecoming game under coach Frank Broyles).

18 Yr. Story of Courage and Patience

By JAMES E. DWYER
WEST CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — A crippled former Marine Corps pilot was admitted posthumously to the Illinois Bar Thursday, climaxing an 18-year story of courage and patience.
The admission of the late Donald D. Harrison BWI of Duluth, Minn., believed to be the first time a law license was awarded posthumously in Illinois, came a little more than one month after Harries died.
Harries, 43, was a quadriplegic since 1946. While attending law school he wrote papers for 10 years with a pencil clenched between his teeth in a hospital ward.
In 1946, Harries was at the University of Minnesota studying for a law degree. He fell while tumbling in a gymnasium and never again had the use of his arms or legs.
Harries was admitted to Hines Veterans Hospital where for almost seven years, he was virtually helpless. Then, gradually, he learned to write by holding a pencil between his teeth.
With encouragement from a Red Cross volunteer worker, Mignon Waring of West Chicago, Harries began studying law again. He enrolled at Loyola University of Chicago.
"There were 50 men in that ward at times," Mrs. Waring said. "It was very hard for him to study."
Studying was further complicated, she said, because Harries could not sit in his wheelchair too long.
In June 1963, he was granted a law degree from Loyola.
Harries passed the written Bar examination last September.

While waiting to hear if he would be admitted to the bar, Harries underwent a kidney operation, regarded as serious surgery for a quadriplegic. He appeared to be recovering after the operation, but suddenly his condition changed and he died on Oct. 14.
Harries' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Harries Sr. of Duluth, Thursday received their son's license to practice law from Chief Justice Ray I. Klingbiel of the Illinois Supreme Court in Springfield.
An official of the State Board of Bar Examiners said he believed the posthumous award was the first in Illinois.

Buffalo and San Diego Play Thurs.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The American Football League spotlight which focused on Cookie Gilchrist and Buffalo last week swings 3,000 miles this week to focus on Cookie Gilchrist and Buffalo.

Gilchrist, the wild Bill of the Buffaloes, was bounced from the team last week in a serious dispute with Coach Lous Saban, placed on waivers and apparently headed for another club in a hassle that threatened to wreck Buffalo's Eastern Division title hopes.

Gilchrist, however, made his apologies to coach and players, was reinstated and the loss of the league's top rusher for the $100 waiver price averted.
Gilchrist should be looking to make further amends in a key clash at San Diego Thursday that could be a preview of the championship game.

The Bills lead the Eastern Division with a 9-1 record to Boston's 8-2-1. The Chargers lead the Western sector with a 7-2-1 record and will be looking to take a big step toward nailing the title by increasing their bulge over runner-up Kansas City, 5-5.

The Chiefs remained in contention Sunday as Len Dawson passed for three touchdowns before suffering a broken nose in a 28-19 victory over Houston that handed the Oilers their eighth consecutive defeat.

In the only other game scheduled, Billy Cannon scored three touchdowns for the first time since 1962 and Cotton Davidson passed for three scores as Oakland whipped New York 36-26.

Boston defeated Denver 12-7 Friday night while Buffalo and San Diego were idle, and preparing for their Thanksgiving Day battle.

Dawson passed 19 and 26 yards to Fred Arbanas for touchdowns in the first half as the Chiefs built a commanding 21-10 lead, then fired a five-yarder to Chris Burford in the third period. Dawson got the broken nose on the final TD and the Chiefs were unable to score again.
Dawson completed nine of 13 passes for 92 yards before he left.

People in the News

TOKYO (AP) — Ten thousand paper cranes are on their way from Tokyo to Caroline and John F. Kennedy Jr. in New York.

The cranes were shipped today by Taeko Matsuyama and Reiko Sato, 17-year-old high school girls in Nagano Prefecture of north central Japan. They started making the cranes last June, and have devoted almost all their spare time to the work.

The girls said they hope the cranes would be a good Christmas present for Caroline and John.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor is in New York's Hospital for Special Surgery, where she underwent a minor operation on her right foot.

A hospital spokesman described the operation as "a small surgical procedure," but gave no details.

The spokesman said she is expected to return to her apartment in the Waldorf Towers within a few days.

BOSTON (AP) — David Powers, a close friend and one-time aide to John F. Kennedy, will be named custodian of the late president's personal papers and memorabilia, says the Boston Globe.

The newspaper said Thursday that Powers will be on the staff of the $10 million Kennedy Memorial Library to be built near Harvard University.

LONDON (AP) — Ringo Starr's doctor says the Beatle drummer will enter University College Hospital in London Dec. 1 to have his tonsils removed. Ringo is expected to rejoin the rock 'n' roll group Dec. 19.

"A Tribute To The Memory Of Our Late President... John Fitzgerald Kennedy"

The torch is passed. . . . Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a New Generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage.

A man who awakened the souls of men everywhere. He was a devoted family man of much vigor, a lover of peace for all mankind, dedicated to his country and strong in his convictions of what was good and acceptable for all.

He was a man not only young in heart but young in spirit and ideas, he was a symbol of courage, and the way he spoke, it gave all the world faith, and a new life of hope.

He loved the people and enjoyed their cheers, he believed in his country, he had no fears. In to the biggest crowd he would walk, shaking hands of people as they laughed and talked.

He appeared upon the stage of life but for a short time, but accomplished so much. It matters not how long you may live, but it does matter how well you live.

He practiced the four freedoms for which America stands. We are blessed to have had such a man as a LEADER.

This is not alone an hour of sorrow. It is an occasion for retrospection and reflection. Memory should be given leeway to rise above the fog and bog of sordid struggle and strife, and meditate for a while on the valor and virtues of a well spent life.

America is greater today because John Fitzgerald Kennedy lived here, his life will be to America as the lingering light of a vanished STAR.

The tombstone that marks his grave will be to America a broken milestone on the highway of life.

MAY HIS SOUL REST IN PEACE.
Reverend M. S. Riley, Minister of the Rising Star Missionary Baptist Church, Hope

U.S. Changing to Own Way in Viet Nam

By DON CARSON
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Changes are being made in the fight to save South Viet Nam from the Communists.

Foreign correspondent Malcolm Browne of The Associated Press said today America is trading its own tactics for those of the Communists.

In a speech prepared for delivery to The Associated Press, Managing Editors Association, Browne also said the emphasis is being placed on a switch from soldier to police methods of fighting.

The change in tactics, Browne said, is designed to develop a Vietnamese counterpart to the teams of the Viet Cong.

Such teams are composed of up to 40 persons, each a propaganda specialist. In the last four years, they have worked secretly among the people to win converts — either by reward or terror.

He said they are credited partly for an increase in Viet Cong fighting strength which boosted its fighters from several thousand to around 100,000.

The war, Browne said, also has developed a new type of enemy as far as Americans are concerned.

He is the terrorist, master of the mysterious and silent death. Already, the correspondent said, American-trained terrorists are beginning to turn the tables on the Viet Cong.

To help fight the Communist terrorist, America has launched a crash training program to provide a 72,000-member Vietnamese police force within four years.

This, he said, is a radical change from the previous policy under which Viet Nam developed an armed force of nearly half a million men.

"This kind of army," Browne said, "is never able to work at the grassroots level among the people themselves, and is incapable of coping with subversion."

More Talk of Residence for V. President

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once again there is talk of the government providing an official residence for the vice president, just as it provides the White House for the President.

This time the vice-presidential mansion talk may become more than just talk. Some interested people are about to come up with recommendations on a specific house.

The final decision will be up to Congress. But Congress, which has turned down some interesting propositions in this century, may be more receptive this time.

President Johnson, with his plans for upgrading the vice presidency, will have an important part in deciding what's to be done.

Johnson hasn't announced for establishment of a vice presidential residence, but those backing the idea think he is with them.

For one thing, Johnson is reported to want to pass along to his incoming vice president,

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, some of the official entertainment duties required at the top in Washington.

Humphrey's own home here, a comparatively modest house in Chevy Chase, Md., would not begin to meet large entertainment needs.

The vice president-elect has said, moreover, that he doesn't want to leave his home, even though it has had to be "patched and fixed up" just to do for family living.

But he might take the stand Richard M. Nixon, vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, took. Eisenhower said in his 1957 budget message to Congress that the government should provide the vice president with an official home.

Nixon said then he didn't want Congress to give him a home, but he would give unqualified support to providing an official residence for future vice presidents.

Right now, one of Washington's finest estates, which has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential residence, is vacant and may again be available.

This is Tregaron, which was the home of the late Ambassador Joseph E. Davies. One of his heirs said Davies had hoped to have the estate used for the vice presidency, but never offered it formally because friends in the Senate said the cost of maintenance would be too high.

When Calvin Coolidge was vice president, he was offered the use of "Henderson's Castle," a fancifully decorated mansion on 16th Street. He turned it down as too costly to run.

There has been some talk of the vice president taking over Blair House, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House and now used to put up

Appeals for Progress in Disarmament

By A.I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant called today for greater official guests of the nation.

A nuclear factor arises here it might not be wise to locate the president and vice president so close together.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is on vacation.

progress in disarmament in 1965 and proposed talks among the nuclear powers, including Communist China, to check the nuclear arms race.

Thant's call was contained in his 10,000-word introduction to the annual report on the state of the world — as he sees it — to the U.N. General Assembly opening Dec. 1.

His statement dwelt briefly on the precarious U.N. financial situation and wound up with the hope there will be a solution before the assembly meets.

Thant reported a $113.3-million deficit as of Sept. 30, arrears of $112.3 million on the Congo and Middle East peace-keeping accounts, and only $24.8 million cash in hand. He said cash resources would practically disappear in six months unless a payments solution is found.

The secretary-general made no reference to U.S. determination to challenge the General Assembly voting rights of the Soviet bloc and France unless they pay peacekeeping arrears.

Thant said disarmament questions continue to have high priority on the international agenda, despite the advances marked by the limited test ban treaty which he noted "remains neither universal nor comprehensive."

Communist China and France have not signed it, and there has been no agreement to ban underground tests. The treaty bans testing in the air, sea and in space.

Thant called reduction and elimination of nuclear delivery vehicles the key issue of general and complete disarmament and noted some measure of agreement at the Geneva disarmament talks last summer.

With the question of seating Communist China in the United Nations coming up, Thant also proposed a foot in the U.N. door for East Germany, North Korea and North Viet Nam.

He noted that several countries not members of the organization — West Germany, South Korea and South Viet Nam among them — have enabled to maintain contact with the world body and be able to listen to its deliberations.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — A young British teacher who held a one-man pro-American demonstration in the coastal town of Lindi has been flown ers in New York to the benefit of their understanding of the international scheme.

"Fully cognizant of the political difficulties involved, I cannot help but wonder whether the time has not come when other countries not at present represented in New York should be enabled to maintain contact with the world body and be able to listen to its deliberations," Thant said.

here and jailed without charge. Officials said he was Peter Butchard of Brighton, who came here six months ago under Britain's "teachers for East Africa" program.

Friends of Butchard in Lindi said he parked his car on the route of a weekend demonstration protesting an alleged Western plot to invade Tanzania from Portuguese Mozambique. On the car he hung a banner pointing out that a shipload of American food had recently arrived in Lindi for thousands of refugees from Mozambique.

"He has been detained for his own safety," said a senior government official. "He has done a very serious thing. It is a very political offense."

SOUP TRULY FIT FOR A KING CREAMY BISQUE WITH ALASKA CRAB

Many men feel a meal is incomplete without soup. Here's one that is kindly enough for the man of your house. A creamy pea soup with a dash of lemon juice, then enhanced with the delicious meat of the Alaska King crab. Served for luncheon or a late supper with crusty bread this soup is hearty enough to be a meal in itself.

Don't hesitate to try this delectable bisque soon, for with the convenience foods used it can be ready in a moment. Prepare packaged or canned pea soup, add canned Alaska King crab and a squeeze of lemon juice. Alaska King crab is canned for easy preparation with all the tendons removed. There are lovely leg pieces and chunky white meat ready to blend into any recipe.

King Crab Bisque

- 1 (7 1/2-ounce) can Alaska King crab
- 2 cans condensed green pea soup
- 1 1/2 soup cans milk
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Drain crab and cut larger pieces into bite sizes. Blend soup and milk in sauce pan. Heat to simmer. Add crab and lemon juice. Serve hot with toasted French rolls. For a richer bisque substitute 1/2 cup dairy sour cream for the lemon juice.

Try a flavor change with cream of celery soup and paprika, cream of tomato soup and chives or cream of mushroom soup; all with the addition of a can of Alaska King crab. These soups may be blended in any combination to suit your particular taste.

Soviet Secret Police Gains in Importance

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two changes in the Soviet hierarchy appear to confirm the belief in Washington that the Soviet secret police organization is gaining importance after some years of relative obscurity.

Alexander N. Shelepin, former head of the Committee of State Security — KGB — as the secret police is formally called, became a member of the Communist party's Presidium on Monday and Vladimir E. Semichastny, the present KGB boss, was promoted a full member of the party's Central Committee.

These two changes are in addition to other indications of the KGB's growing stature. The signs have been carefully analyzed by the administration's Soviet specialists.

But the specialists cautioned that their significance should not be exaggerated. Moreover, they say, there is no indication that the KGB played any role in the ouster of Premier Khrushchev.

Some cautious glorification of the secret police started about six months ago, well before the change in the Kremlin.

The role of the secret police, omnipotent during the Stalin years, was drastically downgraded after the execution of its chief, Lavrenti P. Beria, in 1953. The appointment of Shelepin, an outsider and a former leader of the Komsomol, the party's youth organization, to head the KGB in 1958 represented a downgrading of the dreaded strong arm of the party.

But Washington experts discovered signs of a slight change since last summer, with occasional newspaper articles praising the "vigilance of the KGB" and its role in fighting "imperialist agents."

Such articles were printed in connection with the Khabarovsk incident last October, when the Soviets raided the hotel rooms of one British and three American military attaches in the Siberian city and then charged that they were spying.

Vietnamese Fighting War Their Way

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Every couple of months the Vietnamese general staff stages a mammoth operation like Brushfire I, now in progress in a Communist base area northwest of Saigon.

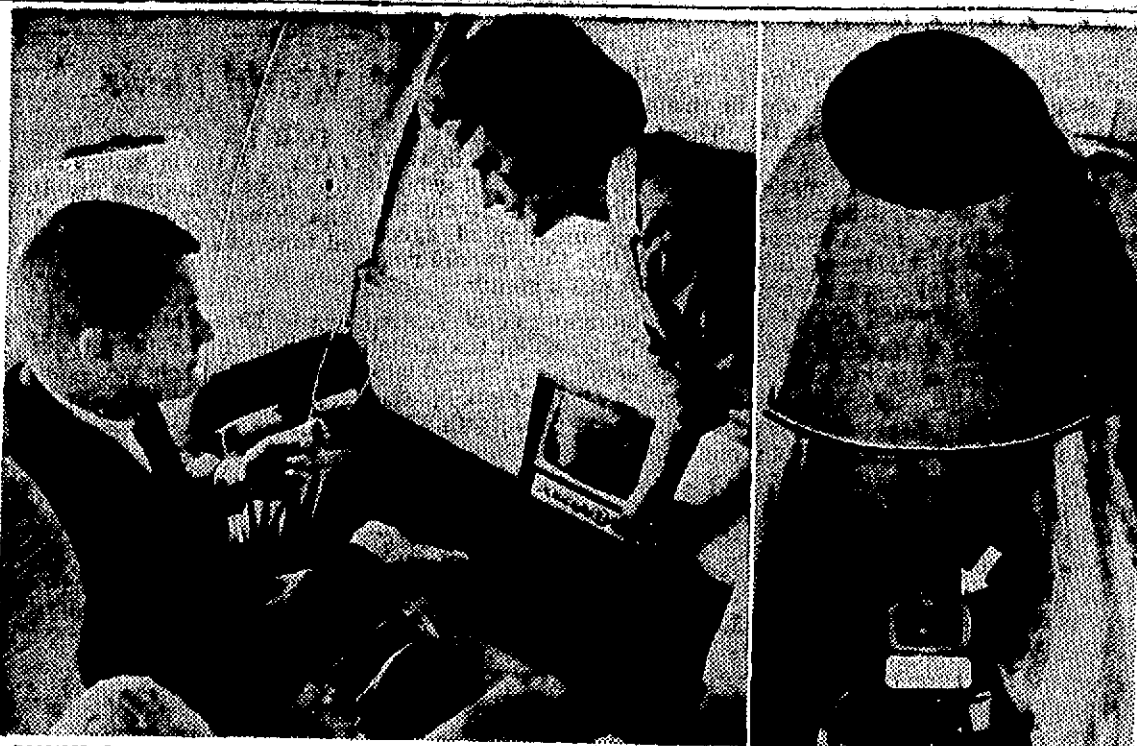

U.S. military advisers don't approve. They say that results will never be worth the tremendous expenditure of men, money and planning. But they can't stop it.

"After all, this is a Vietnamese show," one senior U.S. officer commented. "We can advise against this sort of thing, but if they insist, there is nothing we can do about it."

Vietnamese officers say such operations disrupt Viet Cong supply lines, fortifications and communications, and that they raise the morale of their troops and of the population in the area.

But seldom do the grand-scale military operations result in an engagement with the enemy. Brushfire I is no exception.

A total of 7,000 men have not had one exchange of fire with the Viet Cong. The operation has tied up troops and helicopters all around the Saigon area. American officers say experience has shown that the success

Highlights in History of Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Nov. 23, the 328th day of 1964. There are 38 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1936, the Supreme Court upheld the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law in a 4-4 decision. The tie vote automatically put the law into effect, foreshadowing later approval by the court of the National Social Security Act.

On this date in 1804, the 14th president, Franklin Pierce, was born at Hillsborough, N.H.

In 1876, the first Intercollegiate Football Association was formed at Springfield, Mass. Charter members were Colom-of military operations in Viet Nam tends to lessen as they increase in size.

That is why U.S. advisers suggest small unit actions constantly deploying handfuls of soldiers in Communist areas, playing the guerrillas' own game.

"The Vietnamese high command just won't forget the military principles it learned at Saint Cyr (the French Military Academy). They still fight this war on a conventional basis," a U.S. adviser complained.

Technically, U.S. authorities could veto a big operation by refusing to supply helicopters to lift the troops, but they seldom do.

American military men counter Vietnamese justification for the big operations with this argument: The effect on the local population is negative at best. By next weekend the men from Brushfire I will have pulled out, leaving the region in the hands of the Viet Cong. Any farmer who aided the government troops would be marked for retaliation.

One of the main problems is that the enemy usually finds out about big operations well in advance. Hardly a village was left in the Brushfire area when the troops landed.

While Brushfire I was having negative results, small units scored successes against the Viet Cong in two operations to the north.

A handful of daring Vietnamese leaped from U.S. helicopters near Da Nang, killed 17 guerrillas and captured 21.

Two ranger companies killed 35 guerrillas in another group of Viet Cong.

"DEAR ABBY"

THAT'S ALL IT TAKES!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: When there are so many IMPORTANT problems in the world, why do you bother with silly complaints like, "My husband insists on wiping his hands on my dish towels"? I think you could use the space allotted to you to answer more serious problems.

Disappointed In Eugene, Ore. Dear Disappointed: Very few marriages fail because of one great big earth-shaking problem. A collection of minor irritations tends to build up, and then... BOOM, marriage on the rocks!

Dear Abby: We are so pleased and proud that you gave nationwide attention to our MASON SCHOOL BLOCK PLAN. If other parents want to adopt it, there is no limit to the amount of pain and brutality we will have spared innocent children. All that is required to make this plan work is one responsible mother in every block who will volunteer her home for a few hours each day as an "island of safety." School children are instructed to seek refuge in any home, should they be bullied by a stranger, or become suddenly ill. Anyone wishing free information on how to organize this plan may write to: MASON PUBLIC SCHOOL, OMAHA, NEBRASKA

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE LAITNER

Dear Abby: I would like to know what is proper concerning a widow wearing her wedding ring. My father died two years ago and my mother has started dating.

Now she no longer wears her wedding ring. But she wears her engagement ring on her right hand. This has upset me. I think it looks as though she is divorced. Shouldn't a widow continue to wear her wedding ring until she marries again?

Dear Upset: No. Only a widow who has no interest in dating continues to wear her wedding ring. It communicates to all eligible men that she is neither available nor interested. Widows who would like to date, and eventually remarry, leave their wedding rings in the drawer.

Dear Abby: The letters written by those jealous second wives who married widowers prompts this letter:

I married a widower who had two small boys. We live 400 miles from my parents, but I miss them less because of "her" parents, whom I call "Mom and Dad." "Her" wedding picture is in a twin frame with mine on the table in our entrance hall. My husbands carries "her" pictures along with mine in his wallet. If these petty, jealous women didn't want reminders of the first wife, they never should have married widowers. My husband was married to "her" for 12 years and I wouldn't want him to forget her if he could. She is gone and her husband and children are now mine to love and care for. No intelligent person could ever be jealous of the dead.

Happy Number Two

Baked Oranges Complement Turkey

Everyone knows that cranberries and turkey go well together, but for a change, or in addition to cranberries, serve Spicy Baked Oranges. The whole oranges are boiled until tender then cut in half and baked and glazed with a sweet sauce.

Spicy Baked Oranges
2 medium oranges
1/2 cup water
25 whole cloves
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Grate off very thin layer of yellow rind from oranges. Bring water to boil in a saucepan. Add oranges, simmer 1/2 hour, or until oranges are tender. Drain. Cut oranges in half, and round surfaces with cloves. Place, cut-side-down, in shallow baking pan. Stir remaining ingredients in saucepan over low heat to dissolve sugar. Pour over oranges. Cover pan; bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven 45 minutes or until oranges are well glazed, heating occasionally. Serve hot or cold with sugar, makes 6 servings.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was a mellow, more confident Arthur Godfrey who dropped in town this week to perform his daily radio show and emcee a "Hollywood Palace" for ABC.

The mellowness comes partly from age and he surprises you when he says, "I am 61 years old — be 62 next August if I live that long." He looks scarcely over 40, his hair still rust-colored and unthinned, his face unlined.

His confidence? Some of his detractors might argue he never lacked it. He says it is a recent acquisition.

"I never realized the dimensions of what I had acquired over the years," he commented at the Brown Derby between radio and television commitments. "I didn't really find out until three years ago, when I started to go out and face the public."

"When you've spent most of your working life in a small studio, sometimes completely alone, you don't develop any understanding of what you are capable of. Besides, there were plenty of people who helped to keep my confidence from growing."

"When I was doing well in television, the old, established entertainers wouldn't accept me. They told gags like: 'Arthur Godfrey is a new kind of act in show business — all you have to do is show up.'

"Sure, that hurt me, but I knew why they did it. I was something new, something they didn't understand. When they started in radio, they came on with 'Hello, ladies and gentlemen,' and they went into the same kind of acts they had done in vaudeville and on Broadway."

"When I was in the hospital in 1931, I studied radio before I decided to get into it. I knew there were no 'ladies and gentlemen' out there. There was just one guy and maybe he was in the bathroom or in his car and I had to reach him."

"The older comics couldn't understand what I was doing, so they knocked me."

Godfrey figures his turning point came three years ago when he was recording his radio show in Miami. The hotel management asked if visitors could be admitted to the broadcast in the dining room. Godfrey agreed and was astonished to see that he and his troupe could hold a big audience.

He recalled: "I decided to try a show in the dining room at night. It worked. I got an offer to play Las Vegas at $100,000, which was too good to pass up. I was so scared I spent most of the $100,000 on acts to surround me. Then I discovered that wasn't necessary."

Since then he has played night clubs and theaters including a

More Fighting In Laos Seen in the Future

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI
TOKYO (AP) — With the dry season setting in and its roads firming up again, Laos' internal strife appears headed for more fighting.

Pathet Lao chieftain Prince Souphanouvong in a statement broadcast this week claimed "fierce fighting" already is raging and "a large-scale war is being expanded throughout Laos."

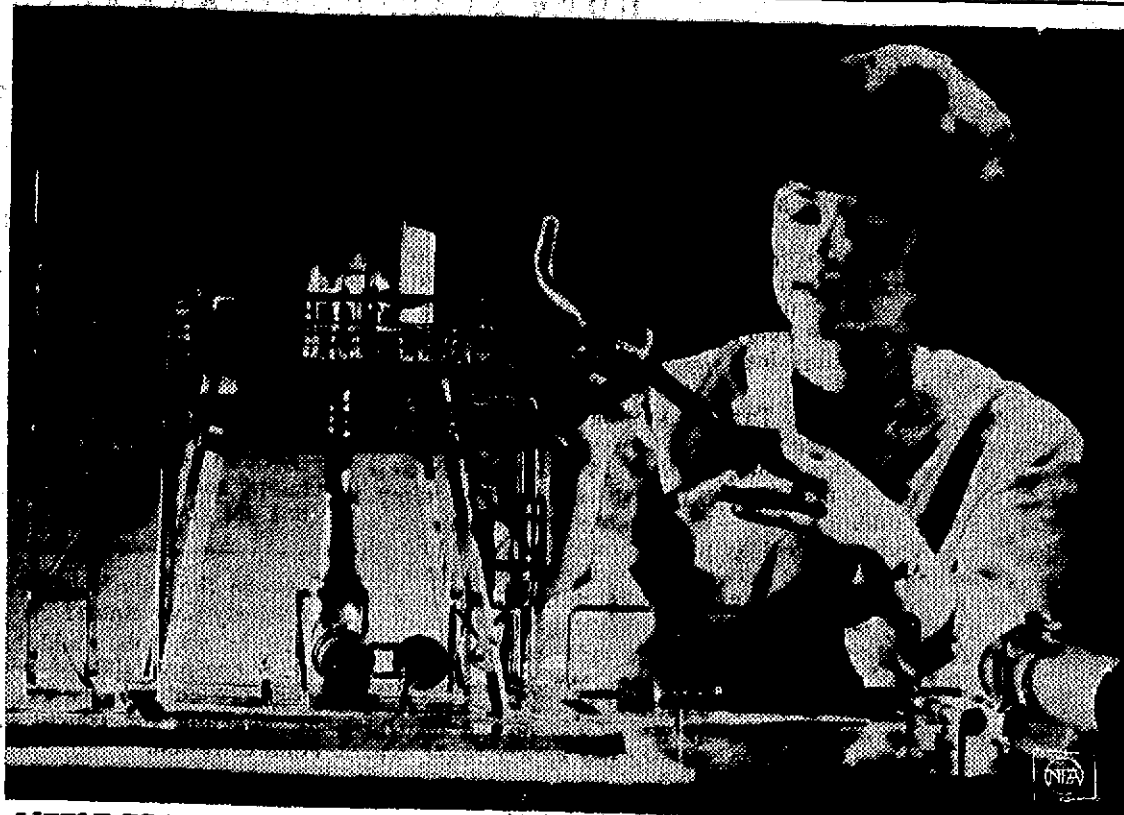

As usual, taking the role of the aggrieved party, the Communist leader charged that the Laotian army, with American support, had been attacking Pathet Lao-held areas.

And he said his half-brother, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, "who has capitulated to and connived with the above acts of the United States and its lackeys must bear no small part of the responsibility."

The situation in Laos, which run in "Our Town" last summer. Now he is talking about a tour of "Never Too Late." He'd like to take along a combo with which he would appear in night clubs after the play.

Godfrey looks fit for anything. It is six years since he came through an operation for lung cancer.

Leaders in Russia Seem to Be Divided

AN AP News Analysis
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The latest Soviet Communist shakeup piles puzzle upon puzzle, as if internal conflicts were aggravated by Nikita Khrushchev's fall. Some of the difficulty might even be traced to Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

Kremelin leaders seem to be divided into two camps. One appears eager to nail down party authority over all phases of Soviet life, the other to push ahead with practical but bold programs, salvaging whatever might be usable from ideas developed in the Khrushchev era. It has the look of a struggle between conservatives and liberalizers, for the present at a stand-off.

The party Central Committee's decision this week makes it appear that Khrushchev reached a pinnacle in 1961, gradually thereafter losing his grip in a clash between party anxiety about control and Khrushchev's impatience to start the U.S.S.R. on the rocky road toward catching up with the United States.

Many who watched Khrushchev in the United States five years ago judged him severely shaken by the affluent society. His tinkering with Marxist doctrine increased noticeably thereafter, finally provoking outraged conservatives into accusing him of heading toward capitalism.

Bureaucracy frustrated swift Soviet internal development. Khrushchev seemed eager to do something about it. He increased the authority of the 15 republic governments of the U.S.S.R.

The program never really got off the ground. The nation ran into severe shortages of grain, milk and meat and vast waste in industrial output because of inferior goods. At this point, powerful Nikolai Podgorny, a Ukrainian on the Presidium, complained that labor discipline in farms and factories was lagging.

Implicitly Podgorny blamed Khrushchev's policies, as if Khrushchev's fever to make the race with the United States had pushed things too far, too swiftly.

In December 1962, Khrushchev introduced another reform, establishing separate party industrial and agricultural boards around the country to concentrate party attention in these respective fields. Discipline was to be insured by means of city and zonal units responsible to higher party organizations, which in turn answered to Moscow.

This was a sharp turn back to centralization, but it also meant more confusion and more red tape. Whether Khrushchev was wholly responsible, he could be blamed, and it provided extra leverage for prying him out of power. has already been rendered serious by U.S. imperialism and its henchmen, has now become more dangerous," he said.

The Pathet Lao seemed to have been placed on the defensive since the Laotian army launched air bombings of Red positions last summer. This action saved the harassed neutralist army from destruction and at least temporarily turned the tide of the war.

The Pathet Lao radio frequently has broadcast protests against these air strikes and advances by the resurgent Laotian army.

Souphanouvong charged that 20 battalions of infantry, artillery and armored units totaling 10,000 men of the Laotian army and "a large number of aircraft were conducting a large-scale attack" into Pathet Lao-occupied areas.

NEW YORK (AP) — "I think it can be truly said," declared Adlai E. Stevenson of John F. Kennedy, "that the threat of nuclear war was his greatest burden and the initiatives he took for peace were his greatest glory."

Stevenson's words were the theme Wednesday night of CBS' commemorative program to the late president, "The Burden and the Glory of John F. Kennedy," first of many which will be seen during the next few days.

Kennedy — again — quoting Stevenson — "was so contemporary a man, so involved in our world, so immersed in our times, so responsive to its challenges, so intense a participant in the great decisions of our day, that he seemed the very symbol of the vitality and the exuberance that is the essence of life itself."

For an hour we saw and heard this exuberant and vital man speaking about the need and hope for peace. It was a serious and somber program, recalling many of the nation's crises — the Bay of Pigs, the Cuban missiles, the troubles in Berlin — that confronted the President during his short administration.

The program was primarily an evaluation by associates of the President in this one area and it moved as solemnly and slowly as a funeral march. We missed the small personal touches, the flashes of wit, the family relationships which had endeared him to a nation. Perhaps some of this will be reflected in the anniversary tributes which follow.

power.

Among those zeroing in on Khrushchev may have been a strong Ukrainian bloc, headed by Podgorny, even though Khrushchev's own route to power was through the Ukraine.

In the new shakeup this week, a number of Ukrainians moved up the ladder. Podgorny appears to be close to the top under First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's successor.

Brezhnev and the new premier, Alexei N. Kosygin, seem to be cautiously on the fence at the moment in the jockeying over economic policy. But many of the younger generation Communists of the new managerial class who rose under Khrushchev seem eager to push ahead with the race to catch up with the U.S. economy. Despite the power behind the conservatives, the liberalizers remain strong enough to carry the day eventually.

Religion at Work in the African Area

By JERRY EDGERTON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The man in flowing white robes showed the hippopotamus tooth and the carved African masks to the crowd of children.

He explained the work of the White Fathers of Africa and the satisfactions of the religious life.

His booth, with a background of photographs and statistics boasting of six million Roman Catholic converts in Africa, was one of the most popular at a recent exhibition explaining the diverse vocations of Catholic religious orders.

The purpose was to show young people some of the activities of priests, nuns and brothers, and spur their interest in joining the orders.

The show was sponsored by the local chapter of the Serra Club, an international group of Catholic laymen. The club sponsors similar displays in other cities, shows films and provides speakers.

The atmosphere at the Louisville show was that of a trade fair, and no one was doing any hard-sell recruiting. Some 54 orders from 12 states were represented. Each booth had pamphlets and leaflets to give out.

The emphasis seemed to be on demonstrating that the religious life is far from all somber and serious. Color slides at many booths showed brothers and students playing sports or having informal get-togethers. A popular feature was a hootenanny staged by nuns, brothers and seminarians which included a hand-clapping, sing-along rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

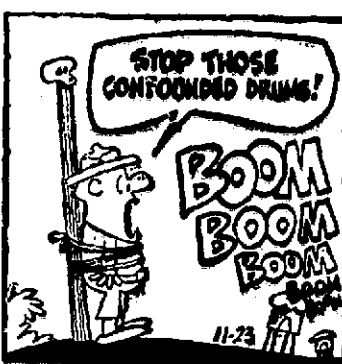

The Our Lady of Grace Sisters staged a show with marionettes dressed as nuns.

A majority of exhibits put emphasis on "the of serving God." Most of the men and women operating the booths have been assigned full time by their orders as "vocations officers." One such official was the Rev. Richard Wise of the Society of the Precious Blood. He explained he corresponds with any young men who inquire about entering the order, sends them literature and if they express continuing interest, eventually pays them a visit.

Arkansas Not Hurt by Closing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's decision to close 80 installations in 33 states includes none in Arkansas, it was revealed Thursday. None of the groups to be transferred from the closing bases will be sent to Arkansas.

A Special Report on Viet Nam

EDITOR'S NOTE—American hopes for a breakthrough in the battle to win South Viet Nam's peasants away from the Communists and over to the government are centered south of Saigon in a key area where the town of Phu My is typical of many. AP Photographer Horst Faas accompanied Vietnamese troops that reoccupied the town in December of 1963 after it had been in the hands of the Communist Viet Cong for some weeks. He revisited the town early this month. Here is his report.

By HORST FAAS

PHU MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — Three government intelligence operatives, dressed in civilian clothes, walked casually through Phu My's pagoda market, brushing past food vendors and trinket stores.

They halted suddenly on seeing three other young men, also in civilian garb, approaching them.

In Phu My, where a military and political battle has been waged all this year between the government and the Communist Viet Cong, young men not in uniform are a rarity.

Closing in quickly, one of the strangers drew a knife. Another reached deep into his pocket, possibly for a pistol.

The government operatives fled to the nearby river, dived in and swam to a government post. Their assailants were Viet Cong intelligence men probably in Phu My on a mission similar to theirs, one of the government operatives said.

They ran because they were carrying a list of agent's names that had to be kept from the Viet Cong.

This incident illustrates the level at which the battle for the allegiance of Phu My's 5,000 people is being waged.

Here in the steamy Mekong River Delta, the plans and strategies formulated by American and Vietnamese authorities in Saigon appear simply — in the digging of a well, the building of more barbed wire fences, and the dispensing of medicine.

The Viet Cong strategy is equally simple at this level — undo all that the government has done.

The Communists got a good start after the collapse of the Diem regime. During November and December 1963, they occupied Phu My and made it over.

The government reoccupied the area in late December, but the pattern all this year has remained the same.

The more fences erected round paddies and hamlets, the more cut barbed wire is left dangling. As more and more civic action cadres troop in from Saigon after courses in public relations, they find frustration because of the efforts of the always persistent Communist cadres.

Phu My was picked as a key area for pacification for several reasons. One was that it lies in a fertile region about 40 miles southeast of Saigon in Dinh tuong Province. Make advances in Phu My, authorities in Saigon argued, and you have set the pattern for much of the delta.

In their brief occupation, the Communists had shown what they could do. First they wrecked the symbols of the enemy — the church, government offices, the schools, the village bridge and the market place.

Then they put up signs. Communist slogans were painted on buildings, propaganda was daubed along market walls. A huge concrete monument was erected.

Viet Cong administrators imposed taxes on houses and rice crops, and gave constant propaganda lectures. A highly organized political structure was created among the villagers.

Finally, the Viet Cong ordered the building of a massive series of earthworks for protection against attack.

But when the government decided to challenge the Communists with a military force in late December, the Viet Cong left without a fight.

This reporter visited Phu My in January, when plans were being made. Many of them have been carried out. Hundreds of trenches dug across the highway leading to Phu My have been filled in and the road is open.

Schools have been repaired, and two bridges rebuilt. The market place has been rebuilt. The government stopped collecting taxes. The Communist monument was altered into a shrine for government dead.

Government strategy was quite clear in January. There were three main elements:

1 — Build up local administration and services in hopes of making the people eventually feel loyalty to the government.

2 — Build up paramilitary organizations — hamlet militia, self defense corps, civil guard — to appoint strong enough to defend the area with few or no government troops.

3 — Keep the area secure against the Viet Cong by using patrolling troops operating out of defensive posts.

Ten months later, only the third point is being carried out with any degree of efficiency. And this not in its entirety, because the idea was to phase the troops out eventually.

Why has progress been virtually nil in Phu My?

One of the major reasons is that oldtime bungler, plain red tape. The Phu My region has been batted back and forth from various military regions during the year, leading to disruption in the chain of command.

Sometimes the Phu My people just didn't know who their superiors were.

The civic-action program is grand in its strategy and concept. Special men and women are recruited in Saigon for this sensitive job of persuading the people that the government is worth supporting.

Only 75 per cent of the number scheduled to operate in Phu My showed up. They eventually terminated their work, having taken a census, photographed everybody, numbered houses and supervised the election of officials for hamlets.

Then they stopped working. The last visible "civic-action" effort by the government is the constant erection of barbed wire fences which the Viet Cong hack down.

The basic idea of winning the mind of the population just hasn't come across. It may be that the Viet Cong have already won them and that the government is fighting a losing battle.

Attempts to build up village militia forces have failed, mainly because all the able bodied men are either in the government armed forces, fighting with the Viet Cong, or in hiding.

BEETLE NOSE—This is the nose of the new HC-130H Hercules. The beetle-like projections are used for recovery operations and rescue. This yoke, which can be folded back along the nose when flying, can retrieve objects or persons weighing as much as 500 pounds, hoisting them aboard the craft for the trip home. The 2,000-mile-range aircraft will play an important role in various space programs.

The Story: Peeler Mason, a pool hustler who is also a police informer, is a man that Inspector Blake believes can tell him where to find Pete Jackman, known to be a prison friend of Richard Emery. Blake wants Emery for postal robbery and murder.

XIII

"Why are you hustling me?" he asked quietly.

I glanced up at him. "What do you mean?"

"I was hustling you," he said "and you were hustling me or you wouldn't have missed that nine. Why?"

"Yeah," he muttered. "You're Peeler Mason, aren't you? I asked. He nodded.

"Then I'll play you one more game—for $50."

He looked at me sharply. "Why?"

"I want some information and I understand you might be able to give it to me."

"Who told you about me?" "Lieutenant McGruder."

"You a cop?"

"Sort of—but not the same as the lieutenant."

"I thought you wasn't. He don't throw around $50 bills."

"Well?" I asked.

He shrugged. "I could use 50 bucks." He started to rack the balls. "What're you looking for?"

"You know Pete Jackman?" He glanced nervously. "Yeah. I know him. He usually hangs around here, but I ain't seen much of him the last week. I heard he made a few hits and maybe that's the reason."

"What kind of hits?"

"Checks, I heard."

"Do you know if he's working with someone else?"

"Maybe. There was a guy around here with him a couple of times. A guy I never saw before."

I moved around so that my back was to the other players even though they weren't near. I produced the picture and held it where he could see it.

"That's the guy. I don't know his name or anything else about him, but that's the one."

I put the picture away. "Do you know where he's staying?" He shook his head.

"I just saw him a couple of times. Wait a minute. There's something that might help. The last time they were in here. Maybe four days ago. Pete must've fixed him up with a broad and he was going for her hot and heavy. Maybe he's still hanging around her."

"Know who she is?"

"Ducky Drake. She's a stripper, and all them dames take screwy names. She works at the Purple Pussycat downtown."

bout me."

He managed to achieve an injured expression. "Me?" he exclaimed indignantly. "It wouldn't be ethical."

The Purple Pussycat looked no different from dozens of clubs, in every large city. Everything was in semidarkness except the runway. I got a table not too far from the runway where I could watch the rest of the room.

I watched a number of third-rate strippers come out and wriggle their way through musical numbers.

Two hours and several drinks later I was watching the same girls go through the same tired routines. But I noticed that a printed card on the table promised three stars, among them Ducky Drake, who had not yet appeared. So I nursed my drinks and bided my time.

I had been there a little more than two and a half hours when two men were shown to a table on the other side of the runway from me. There was no question that one of them was Richard Emery. The other one seemed to fit the description of Pete Jackman.

Then Ducky Drake was announced.

Something changed in the room when she came out on the runway. I'm not sure what caused it. She was beautiful, with long red hair. She was also a better dancer.

There was a moment of silence when she left the runway. Then suddenly the room rocked with applause. She made a brief appearance, smiled and left. A massive sigh followed her into the darkness beyond the runway. I sighed along with the others and then glanced at the table across the runway. The two men were gone.

Two El Dorado youths, students at Texas A&M, have accomplished the feat of touring Europe — on $3 a day.

How did John and George Long do it?

"It's easy," they say. "Just live about three levels lower than the Europeans themselves."

The brothers said, "Our secret was living at bargain rates. We quickly learned to talk down prices."

They spent three months visiting Holland, Germany, Denmark, Austria, Italy, France, Spain, Belgium, Luxembourg, England and Wales. They went to Rotterdam aboard a student ship, then bought a motorcycle for $45. After driving it 3,000 miles and spending only $8 for repairs, they sold it for $60.

John is a 21-year-old senior mechanical engineering major and George, an 18-year-old sophomore electrical engineering major.

If doe deer with horns weren't legal game, Bonnie Vick of Paragould may have been in trouble.

But a Randolph County game warden checked in Vick's kill last week as a "spiked-horn doe."

It had two spike horns similar to one a mountain goat might grow. The deer also had a white streak running from each horn down its face to the mouth, giving it an odd appearance.

In the animal-oddy area, Dave Nance of Newport got his winter venison the difficult — and expensive way. He was en route to the White River Game Refuge near St. Charles last week to begin hunting deer and his car struck one.

The damage to his car? About $400. Officials ruled he could keep the 250-pound, eight point buck.

Mrs. Tony Simpson and Mrs. Jane Frost of Jonesboro went fishing last week and came up with an oddity not even seasoned anglers of the area could identify.

It was a dark brown, ell-like specimen with small beady eyes, four legs and three large red plume-like growths on each side of its flat head.

Finally the curator of the Arkansas State College museum identified it as a Necturus.

A more common name for the specimen, the curator said, is salamander. But the Necturus is an amphibian, while the true salamander sticks to dry land.

Warren A. Smith of Sylamor near Batesville has constructed a unique gift for a children's home in Germany — a hand-crafted sign containing a time capsule with a message from the Arkansas Ozarks.

A group of German girl singers, "The Obernkirchen Choir," saw some of the Ozark craftsmen's work during the recent Forestry Products Week exhibit at the state Capitol.

They decided they wanted a sign made by Smith for the children's home for which they were touring America to raise funds.

Smith made the sign to last almost indefinitely, placing the sealed capsule inside it.

"When it finally does come apart through weathering and age," he said, "a future generation of Germans will get a good will message from Arkansas."

In the capsule is the message, an Indianhead penny and the date of the capsule sealing, Nov. 7. The sign is due to arrive in Germany Dec. 1.

Spicy Meat Ball Curry

Subtle is the word for the best Indian curries, such as this one in which American-made Tabasco liquid red pepper seasoning mingles with old-world spices in a beef and green pea combination.

Ground chuck beef, spiced with ginger, cinnamon and Tabasco, is shaped into balls, sautéed with onion and garlic, and simmered in milk seasoned with curry powder. A package of thawed frozen green peas is added during the last few minutes of cooking. A platter of hot cooked rice and small mounds of chutney accompany this luscious curry.

Meat Ball and Green Pea Curry
1 egg
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco, divided
1 pound ground chuck
1 small onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas, thawed

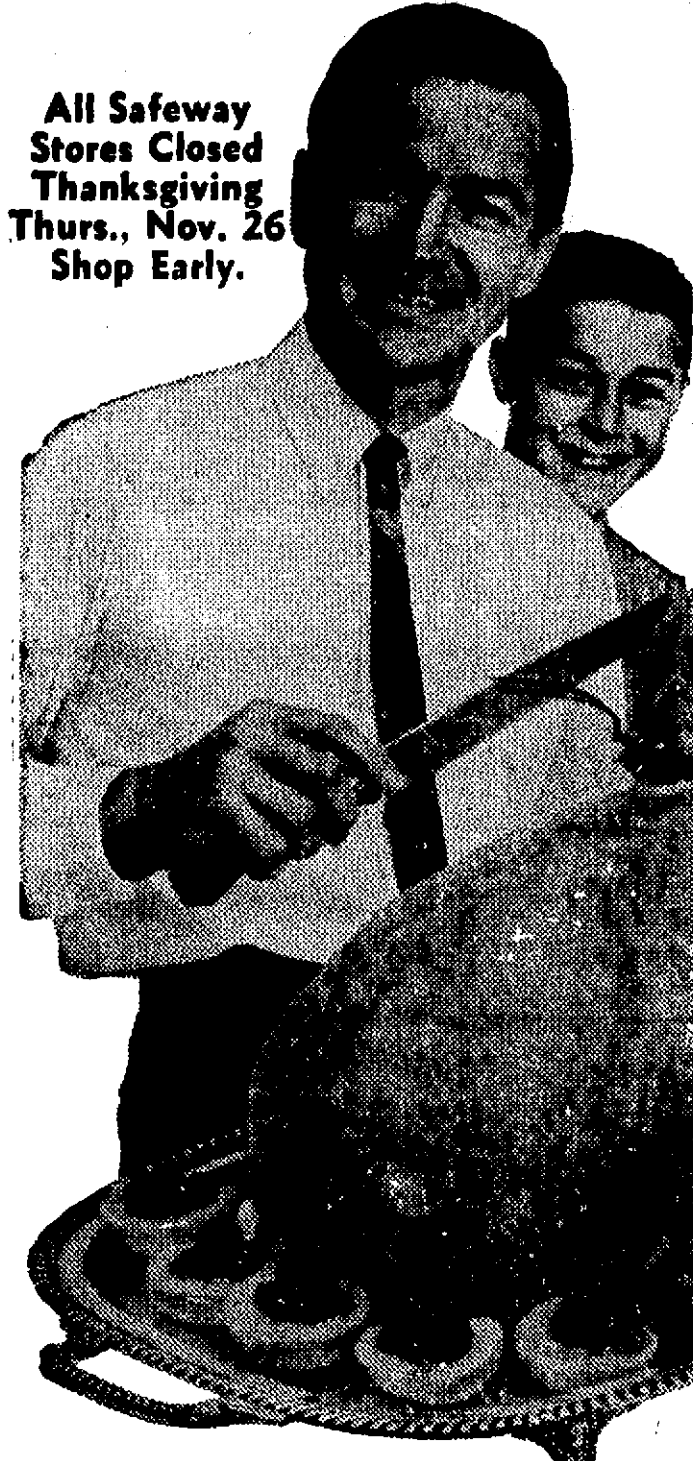

Beat egg in mixing bowl. Stir in ginger, cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the Tabasco. Add meat and mix thoroughly. Shape into 8 meat balls. Sauté onion and garlic in butter in skillet until onion is tender but not brown. Stir in curry powder, flour and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add meat balls and simmer 15 minutes, covered. Add peas and remaining 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco and cook 3 minutes longer. Serve over hot cooked rice. YIELD: 4 servings.

Attempts to improve intelligence have not worked, and the population remains as distrustful as ever of the government and unwilling to talk.

There is a feeling in Phu My of being watched. The people watching, the Viet Cong watching. They seem to be waiting for the next development.
